IN MEMORIAM

To the memory of my dear mother, Bertha Nowlin Austin, who departed this life five years ago on August 14, 1965.

Many a wind has blown the snow
Since we said "goodbye" so long ago.
And many a tear has been shed
Since we last said "goodbye".
And many a baby has been born
And many a baby has cried since that sad day.
But no one has cried as much as I, dear Mother
Since that day that you went away.

Sadly missed by your loving daughter, Lucy Etta Austin, August 12, 1970.
Poem written by her daughter in honor of Mrs. Austin. 8-20-1t

During the week of July 19-25, I attended the 4-H Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. There were 270 delegates attending the Short Course representing the states of Minnesota, Kansas, Michigan, New Hampshire, Mississippi, Washington, New York, and Virginia.

While we were there, everyone was involved in different activities. Three workshops were conducted during this week. The first workshop, "Understanding Self and Others," the second, "Dare to be Different," the third, "Living with Change." During these workshops we discussed world problems such as overpopulation and pollution. Other activities included state huddles, assemblies, group committee meetings, flag ceremonies, citizenship quiz, program and recreation.

The 4-H delegation toured many places including the Senate and House building and visited with two Senators and two Representatives. We also toured the Capitol Building and were able to see the Senate and the House of Representatives in session. We toured many of the other historical places in Washington.

All of these activities were to help young people understand the government and it really did. It made us all begin to think about what we can do as young people for our country. It brought closer the problems of the world, and how we can help solve them.

Most of all it made us realize that the young people all over the nation are the same, in their ideas and beliefs."
